

JOB POSTING

We are looking to immediately hire a SOFTWARE ENGINEER who understands how to integrate an app with a smart watch. You must know ios, android, Java, and Objective C. Our smart watch is currently in the “testing phase” however the software has many issues that need to be fixed. We would like to hire a software engineer who can fly to Shenzhen, China to work directly with our team of engineers and fix the issues we are having with our app.

This job will be for approximately 2-3 weeks. If you do not speak Mandarin, you will have a translator that will work with you daily.

This project will pay $6,000 plus expenses.
